POSSOM HOLLER

(LEVEL GREEN.)

MR. EDITOR: No news to write from this place. Farmers are busy when the weather will permit them to work. Wheat is showing up better by far than was expected some time since. The prospects for a peach crop were never better here at this season or time of year, but alas, one cold night can settle the hash with the whole of them.

Judging from the amount of fertilizer that is being brought to this part for corn the outlay in money this spring will exceed the income in the fall in corn. To put commercial fertilizer on very poor land is a needless waste of money and time. If we expect good returns, and pay for the outlay we must fertilize land with some soil, and my experience is, the more soil the better it will pay us.

We must diversify crops more in Rockcastle if we expect to live easily—let us learn that corn is not king,—but good in his place. Try a large patch of potatoes, and a patch of tobacco, fertilizer will pay well on either, and they are money crops.

A few sheep and cows well kept will yield a larger return than horses.

The Maccabees at this place have received their charter, and are going on their way rejoicing. Peter Shutts, A. J. Cress and others attended the State meeting at Louisville, this week.

Dr. Price has rented the C. D. Burnett farm, which will be sold in the near future.

Mr. Editor you will please notify Henry Brannaman, one time more, to bring in those chickens or I will certainly tell that he voted for Beckham at the November election.

Give us another write up on the candidates Ed, and don't leave me and Rash out next time.

I find that my calling and election is sure, if I kin only git a sustitute. Both my opponents will surely be beetin badly; fur one of them will beet tother and then I'll beet the other. Am sorry the re'p'ubs have put off the primary so long, for I do want to get out among the "deer pepil," to speech makin—me and my opponent—so bad that it worries me. Ed, can't you hurry Judge Colyer up just a little for my sake. My health is greatly improved and I've worked on the farm a few hours.

So Mr. Editor, go on, you have a bright future before you, you have got the good will of the good people, and you have got the brain and heart to make your mark in the world. So

Mr. Editor stir up that Livingston man, and tell him we are looking for a good letter from that part every week.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce Chesley Payne,
as a candidate for Magistrate in the Fourth district, subject to the action of the Republican party.

The appropriation made by the Fiscal Court Monday, for the purpose of building a gravel road from the James I. White place to Langford Station is a result of the long and continued agitation of good roads in this county. Now, citizens, you see, what your talking for good roads has done. While, at first glance, the start seems small, yet, it means more than we can fully realize at the present time. People have to be educated on the pike question and the short piece of road, which is to be built soon, will, when completed, do more towards getting pikes throughout the county, than the talk of a hundred men. So good road people keep up the good fight, and before many years have passed, you will be able to claim your victory won.

HON. GEORGE T. FARRIS WAS unanimously declared the Democratic nominee for State Senator for the counties of Boyle, Lincoln, Garrard and Casey. While Mr.
Farris had no opposition, Mr. Lillard, of Danville, having withdrawn from the race some time ago to accept the editorship of the Danville News, yet, even though, there had been other candidates in the field, it seems to us that Mr. Farris should have still been the man and no doubt would have been. During his last term, he proved himself equal to his task and his Democratic friends fully appreciated his splendid work.

The call made by the citizens of Richmond, on Mr. Clarence Woods asking him to accept the mayoralty, is indeed a high compliment. With much reluctance, he yields, although much preferring to devote his entire time to journalism, rather, than to get mixed up in politics, but being the man that he is, he sacrifices his own personal feelings in the matter, and goes at duty's call. May the day soon come, when every office in the land will be filled with such men as Clarence Woods.

THE attorneys for Powers and Howard are not at all jubilant over their victory in getting a reversal in the Court of Appeals. From the recent action taken, they undoubtedly consider themselves in a worse box than they were at first.

WONDER, if the g. o. p. press won't say that Bradley and Yost are after some of that $100,000 corruption fund.

EX-GOV. BRADLEY TESTI- FIES IN THE RIPLEY CASE.

The jury, in the Ripley case, charged with complicity in the as-sination of Gov. Goebel, was secured Wednesday and at 3:20 p. m.
Ex-Gov. Bradley was called to the witness stand. "Governor, did you ever hear Ripley say anything about a conversation that he had with Gov. Taylor prior to the as-sination of Gov. Goebel?" asked Attorney Franklin.

"Yes, sir, I heard him tell of such a conversation. It occurred while the contest case was pending in the State court, and at the corner of Lewis and Clinton streets.
I cannot undertake to give anything but the substance of the conversation. He came in and complained that Taylor was not treating him right. He said that on the day before Goebel was killed he went into Taylor's office and asked him when he should bring his men here. He said that TAYLOR RE-SPONDED: 'My God, I thought that you had brought them. Bring them at once. GOEBEL HASN'T ANOTHER DAY TO LIVE.' This conversation, so Ripley said, took place the day before the as-sination. Judge Yost was present."

"Governor, is that all that you can remember of the conversation?" asked Franklin.

"Yes, sir," responded the witness.

"Don't you recall having heard Youtsey's name mentioned by Ripley?" asked Franklin.

"Yes, sir; I recall that now.
Ripley said that he met Youtsey coming out of the Governor's office as he went into it."

"Governor, do you remember January 25, 1900?" asked Franklin.

"I cannot fix any special day.
You may recall some incident."

"Well, sir, do you remember the day of the coming of the first crowd from the mountains, and did you know previously of their coming?"

"Yes, sir; I recall that day. I only knew of the coming of a body to petition the Legislature."

"Did you have a talk with Taylor about the coming of a crowd of people to the capital?"

"Yes, sir; I did."

Attorney O'Neal here objected to the line of interrogation until reply had been connected with the mountaineers. The court overruled the objections and the attorney saved exceptions. Attorney Franklin asked the witness as to the crowd, but he stated that he had not mingled at all with it and knew little at the time of what its members were doing. He heard some one speaking on the Capitol steps.

"Governor, did you on that day hear anything said regarding the contemplated killing of William Goebel?" asked Franklin.

Heard Threats of Murder.

Exception was reserved by the defense and the witness allowed to answer.

"I was standing out in front of the legislative building at a letter-box talking to Judge Yost when Charles E. Nason, or some one else I do not remember, came up and said that a party of men close by were waiting to kill Goebel as he came from the building. I said that such a dastardly step would not be taken while I was around, and that if not called off and the men taken away I would go up to the Senate chamber and inform Senator Goebel and would come down with him. I told them it would ruin our case. I sent for Charles Finley and Wm. Culton, and while awaiting them I saw Wharton Golden. I told him to go quickly and tell Finley to come to me. He did so, and Finley and Culton came. Both assured me that Goebel should not be hurt.
Finley said: 'Governor, it is all a fake. No such thing is intended.' Golden also said this."

The ex-Governor was cross-examined by Attorney Joe O'Neal, who closely questioned him as to the exact time of the conversation with Ripley. The Governor could not fix the exact day. The cross-examination was brief.

Attention $500 has been appropriated by the Fiscal court for the purpose of widening, grading and graveling the county road leading from Langford station to the corporate limits of Mt. Vernon on the Richmond road. Now let the citizens along the the route to Langford station; on Richmond road and of Mt. vernon, get together and raise by private subscription the sum of $250 for macadamizing the road from Main street out to the corporation limit. This is an opportunity now to build and benefit the county. It behooves to citizens now to act. Subscribe liberally and build a good piece of road as an educator. People will travel over it and more roads will then be built.

The Fiscal Court met Monday to fix the levy for 1901. For county roads 15 cts. on the $100, and for current expenses of the county 30 cts. on the $100, making a total of 45 cts; the poll tax at $1. An order was made, that the present road commissioners should continue until the next meeting of the court in October; that, the commissioners should meet on the 22nd day of this month to apportion among the different overseers of the county their proportional part of the road fund, and that each and every overseer shall work his road three days in the month of May and three more in August or September, and must make his report by the first Monday in October. The present overseers will continue for this year.

Deputy Sheriff Wood will sell on Saturday April 20th at the residence of P. J. Hall, just west of Brodhead, one 3 roller cane mill, one grist mill, one log wagon and a saw mill and fixtures to satisfy a debt of Jefferson Williams. Sale will be on a credit of three months.

The Danville News says; the consolidation, of Centre College and Central University, is almost sure to be. Last week the boards of trustees of the two colleges met and agreed on terms, and all that remains, is for the two Synods to ratify their action, and as the members of the boards of trustees are the leading members of the Synod, it is expected that they will indorse it.

KILLED.—John Crum, a Danville policeman, was shot and killed by a negro, Wednesday night. The negro escaped and was seen passing through Stanford about 5 o'clock yesterday morning, coming in this direction. A liberal reward will be paid for his arrest and delivery at Danville. Description: Rather low, heavy set, 55 years old, whiskers on his face and wore an army coat.

James Maret, pioneer in the independent telephone business in this county and South Eastern Kentucky, is pushing the enterprise as fast as practicable, not only for improved through lines, but for connections with all postoffices and important points in Rockcastle. Had our people waited for the Bell telephone monopoly to come into this territory with their wires and to make connection with the smaller places throughout the county as Mr. Maret is working to accomplish, the children of today would be great grandfathers and mothers, if they were living at all, before they ever saw a wire stretched by that monopoly in old Rockcastle, even then the exorbitant rates charged by them could only be paid by a few. The Mt. Vernon exchange was established May 1st, 1900, and the manager has more than fulfilled all promises to his patrons and at a lower rate than any legitimate exchange in the State. It is a home enterprise which our people, with a few exceptions, have liberally supported, receiving more than full value for their expenditures. By the middle of the summer two more wires will be run from Lancaster to London, where connection will be made with wires going to Barbourville, Williamsburg, Jellico, Knoxville and Tennessee points, and from Lancaster to Lexington, connecting with Winchester, Frankfort and points throughout northern Kentucky, and later with the Home company at Louisville which is putting in a plant at a cost of half a million dollars. The efforts put forth by the Bell company, to crush the Independents, and the movement for reasonable rates to the Kentucky people has proved abortive, though every obstacle that could be thought of has been freely used by that enemy of justice and reason, to annihilate its competitors from telephone business. We are pleased to know that the company, represented by our local manager here refuses to be bought out or bullied by the octopus, and will remain in the field with thirty more allied independent companies continuing to give good, end even better service, by the addition of new and improved switchboards and apparatus.

County lines have been mapped out for Mullins Station, Climax, Disputanta, Conway, Scaffold Cane and Green Hill.

Do not leave home on a journey without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed and cannot be procured while you are on board the cars or steamship. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by Theo Wesley Druggist.
